Esteemed Super Validators:

During the MainNet Staging rehearsal last week, while going through the acceptance criteria, the Super Validator operators, and rights owners, identified three failure cases that caused the software version and configuration proposed for MainNet to be rejected.

The Super Validator operators have proposed fixes for these issues.

The software version containing these is available now to all the Super Validator operators, and the operators have proposed a new MainNet launch date, June 11th, that would allow these fixes to be included in MainNet. The proposed changes have not yet taken effect on-chain.

Because these fixes modify the configuration of Canton Coin, and the configuration of decentralized processing on the Global Synchronizer, I'm proposing that we use the CIP process to vote to accept these changes, and to instruct our respective Super Validator operators to vote them into effect on chain.

Please find the CIP attached. If possible please respond within 24 hours. We will consider the CIP vote to be closed in 48 hours. For the record, Digital Asset votes in favor of CIP-0012
Thank You Eric (Sent on behalf of W. Eric Saraniecki by Wayne Collier)

Given that no one raised objections to CIP-0012 in the first 24 hours, the change is scheduled to be implemented on DevNet, pending votes by the Super Validator nodes, today at 19:15 US Eastern (Vote 1) and 19:20 US Eastern (Vote 2).

Best regards,

Wayne Collier

Apologies, I thought the response deadline was 48 hours.

FWIW, Cumberland/DRW votes in favor of CIP-0012.

Thanks
Chris

Thanks, Chris. The response deadline was 48 hours as you say, but I was hoping to get any objections earlier.

If there are no objections the changes introduced by this CIP will take effect on chain this evening at the specified times.

Hi, SBI votes in favor.

I concur.

Thanks for the update.

Great!
